Foreword

Through the years the people of Williamsport and vicinity have come to consider the Muddy Waters of this locality as a definite part of their surroundings. Without the creek most of the townspeople would be lost, for something would be missing.

And so it is with our yearbook here at W.H.S. Even though this is but the fourth issue of GUNEUKITSCHIK we have come to look upon it as something that belongs, as a definite part of our scholastic atmosphere.

Therefore, as you read this book, we hope it will assist in binding you closer to your school in the same manner in which the Guneukitschik, or Muddy Waters, has bound you closer to your home.

"OUR FACULTY AT WORK"

Seniors^{*}

'53 H o n o r G r a d u a t e s

Valedictorian

Louise Bloyer

Teachers:

We consider it a great privilege to have had the guidance and helpful leadership of the entire faculty during our high school years. Our tasks have been many and difficult for which we are very grateful, because it gave us an opportunity to have a brighter outlook toward a successful future.

We seniors have enjoyed working with you and trying to attain a bit of knowledge so that we can go out into the world to live our own lives and become the leaders of tomorrow.

In closing, the Class of '53 wishes to extend its sincere appreciation to the faculty for the many opportunities that we have been given, for these memories will live with us forever.

Fellow Students:

It has been a great pleasure to work with you for the past few years. Although we don't realize it at this time, these experiences will be remembered and cherished for the rest of our lives.

There have been times, however, when each and every one of us wanted to get away from our school, and all the work and discipline that goes with it. But as we seniors will discover very shortly, all our learning was for a purpose, to instill within us the attitudes necessary for good citizenship.

Therefore, as the Class of '53 moves on toward new horizons, I want to wish all of you a very successful future, with the hope that we may again be privileged to work and play together.

This picture shows one phase of a core class under the instruction of Mr. Peterman. These are seventh grade pupils who study English, geography, spelling and reading as one subject. Instead of being instructed in each subject separately, these four classes are combined into one. The class covers three periods.

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

The Ways and Means Committee was organized this year as the policy formulating body for the Student Council. This committee meets every Wednesday to discuss council problems. The recommendations of these conferences are presented at the following council meetings.

The most important project of this body since its organization was the planning of a point system. This system will reward outstanding students for their interest and participation in extra curricular activities.

BAND OFFICERS

The Concert Band of Williamsport High School was organized in the fall of 1951 and has grown to a playing organization of nearly fifty members.

The band has shared a place in many of the activities of the school such as assemblies, operettas, May Day programs, and an annual student concert for the Elementary School.

Besides the concert band there is a younger band composed of musicians who have been studying instruments for only a short time.

The individual responsible for this growing organization is Mr. Harry Kight, the energetic director. Through his untiring efforts W.H.S. now has an instrumental musical association, and under his able leadership the band has grown into a favorable asset to our school.

Membership in the band is open to any individual who would like to play a musical instrument.

Varsity Soccer

The '52 soccer teams got off to a good start here at W.H.S. A very aggressive varsity squad opened the season with six victories in uniform. Coach Doub completed his line-up with several holdovers from last year's Junior Varsity.

Ronnie Baker was elected captain of this fine team, and under his capable leadership and Mr. Doub's excellent coaching the boys in blue and white were able to complete the season with quite an impressive record. The team finished second in Washington County competition. It is interesting to note that they shut out every county team except Clearspring. In addition to county competition, they had the honor of playing a strong Mercersburg Academy eleven.

Boys' Varsity

The varsity basketball squad began the season as just another team. However, under the excellent training of Coach Richard Shultz, W.H.S. was again feared in county competition.

The teamwork was interesting to watch and truly outstanding. The boys worked together as one combination, which was the secret of their successful season.

Sportsmanship among the boys was of the highest caliber, a very commendable asset of a truly fine team.

May Day '52

Our high school memories wouldn't be complete without recalling our May Day festivities. Last year pretty and popular Donna Butts was crowned Queen of the May in a colorful program sponsored by the Student Council. With Joan McCauley as her Maid of Honor, Queen Donna came to her throne through an aisle formed by the six Court Princesses, representing grades seven through eleven.

After the crowning, the toastmistress, Sonja Kaminka, presented various entertainers from the school which included singers Patsy Cline and Charles Miles, dancer, June Kesselring, and the Special Choir.

IRMA

in three acts.

"My friend Irma," after becoming such a great success on radio, TV, and in movies, came to the stage here at Williamsport Hi. Along with Irma, you met her old friends: Jane Stacy, her long-suffering roommate, Al, her boy-friend who has made a life work out of staying unemployed. Professor Kropotkin, who plays the fiddle at the Cypsy Tea Room and is determined to stay single, and Mrs. O'Reilly, the lovelorn landlady who is determined that the Professor will NOT stay single.

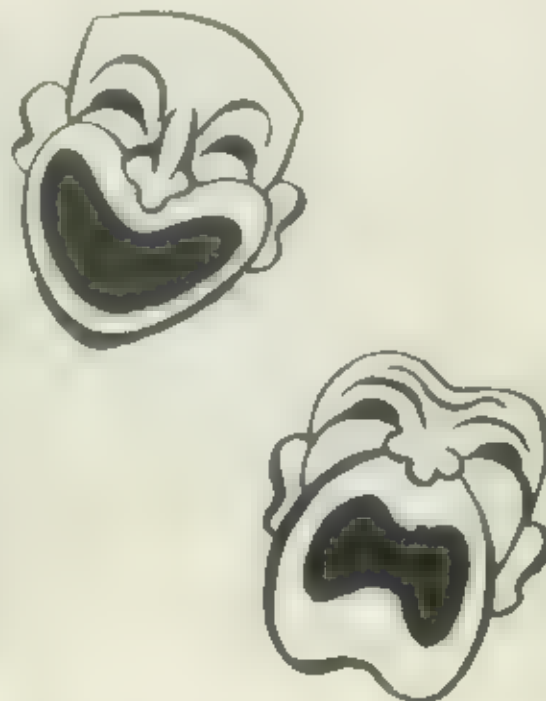

You also met some new friends including Teddy Brown, who THINKS he is a songwriter, Madame Magda, who has fleas -- trained fleas, that is, Don Turner, a famous cartoonist, who wants to start a new comic strip based on Irma's zany doings, B. K. Abercrombie, Mrs. O'Reilly's attorney, who brings her news of an inheritance, Mrs. Peterson, who is Irma's mother from way out in Wisconsin, and Winnie, Don Turner's wife, who turns up very unexpectedly.

Down in the Valley

"Down In The Valley," a dramatic folk opera by Kurt Weill, was selected for this year's Special Choir presentation. It is the story of Brack Weaver, a hillbilly who killed Thomas Bouche in an argument over his sweetheart, Jennie Parsons.

The opera opens when Brack is in jail, sentenced to hang. Brack escapes from jail and seeks Jennie to relive again the happy moments that they shared together. From the most outstanding pleasures of this couple were the revival meeting with several musical testimonies and dancing at Shadow Creek Cafe, where the fateful killing of Thomas Bouche took place.

Realizing that the sheriff will only catch him sooner or later, Brack decides to return to jail and "take his medicine." Jennie reassures him of her eternal love and the two part. . . forever!!

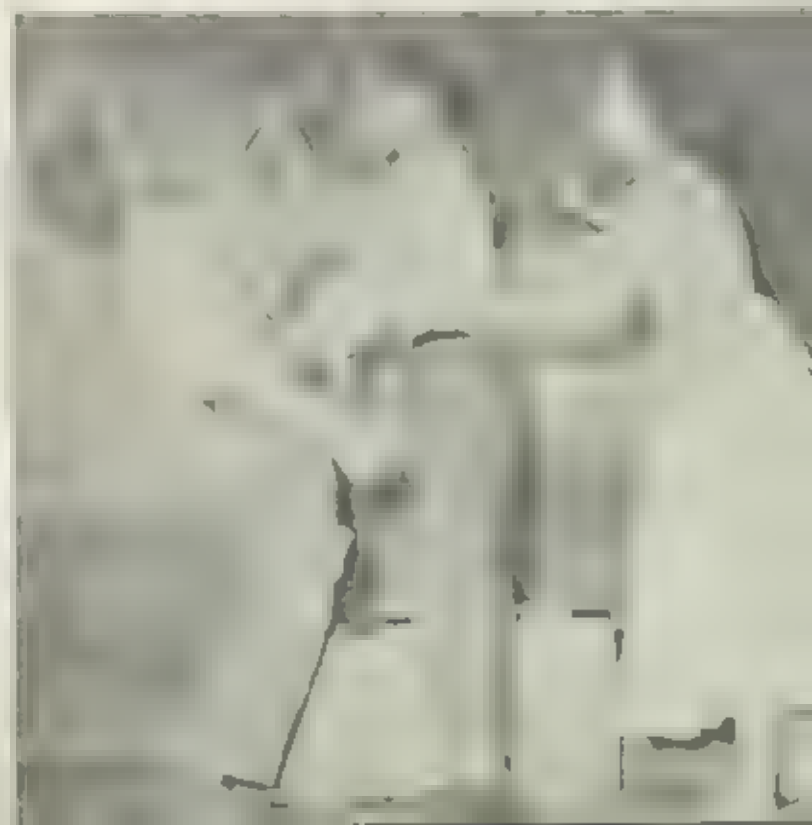

The whole cast and choir were wonderful in portraying the simple but lovable hillbilly folk.

HISTORIC STATE HOUSE

Annapolis, Maryland

The W.H.S. delegation on the porch of the State House

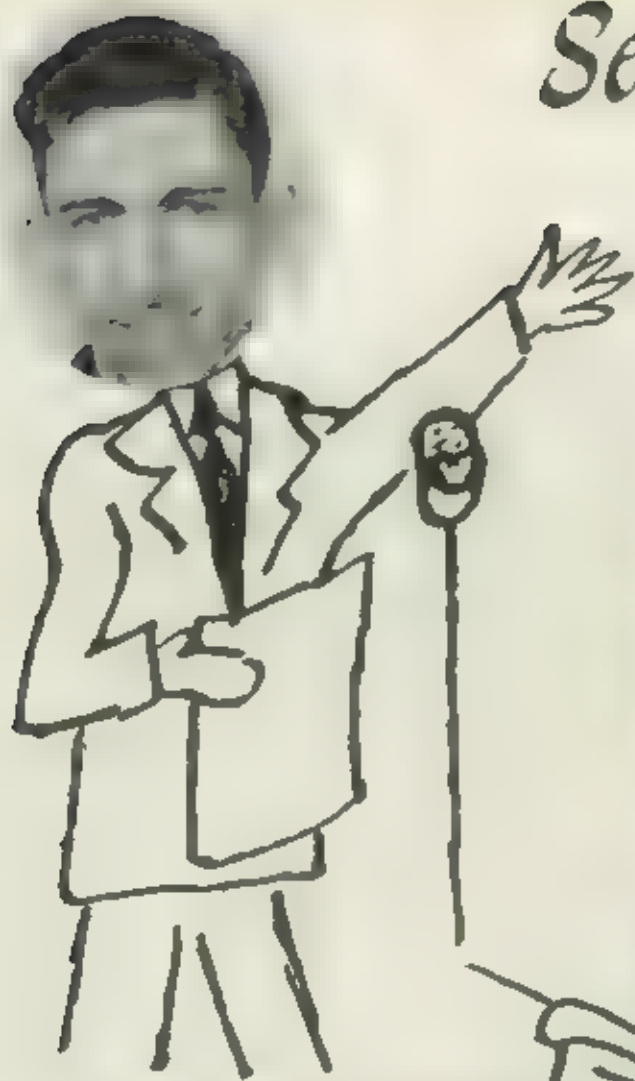

The class of '53 had the pleasure of visiting the State Capitol on February 26. The members were conducted on a tour of Annapolis by Delegate Myron Bloom, who introduced them to Governor McKeldin. It so happened that the instructor monopolized the Governor's valuable time, and the poor students were satisfied to shake his hand. The high point of this tour was a trip across the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

Senior Class Prophecy

I was glad when summer came in 1963 since on June 15 I was going back to my hometown of Williamsport, Maryland, for our tenth class reunion. On the way to Williamsport I stopped at a farm to see SONJA KAMINKA. I walked out to the barn and found her sitting on a three-legged stool, milking a cow. She had married a certain farmer in the vicinity and had settled down to be a farmer's wife.

I was walking down Potomac Street when, going across the street, I saw SHIRLEY MELLOT and PAULEY ROOF. I turned over to talk to them. It seems Shirley had finally married her soldier, and they had just bought a car. Fatsy had been graduated from nursing school in 1956 and was now being nurse at the local hospital. I asked Fatsy where I could get my hair set. She said SHIRLEY HOCKENBERRY, who had graduated from Martinsburg Beauty Culture School, owned a very nice shop on Conococheague Street. So off to the beauty shop I went.

That evening I went to the reunion. It was wonderful to see everyone again. The first person I saw was BOB WAGNER. He was now a successful professor at Hood College. As I was talking, RONNIE BAKER and FRED DOWNS came in. Ronnie, now a jet pilot in the Air Force, was very excited over just being promoted to captain. Fred went to Frostburg Teachers College and is now teaching history in Williamsport.

Talking to everyone I found out what they were doing now. DONALD CRAWFORD is head of the trucking department at the Hershey chocolate plant. BONNIE FORSYTH and MAMIE GRAM'S are working at Pangborn's. Mamie is the private secretary to the president of the company. LEWIS HERBERT is a car salesman in Baltimore. PHYLLIS METZ is a certified public accountant for all the big firms in town. As I came into town I noticed a large, modern department store. I found out that evening that it belonged to GEORGE DUNHAM. He said it at now he can get all the clothes he wants. TOMMY BOWERS owns and operates a garage on Arthurs Street. CATY CLINE is a soloist with Guy Lombardo's orchestra. DONALD FOX and JIMMY BARNDOLE have been farming for their fathers. Now each has his own farm. JOE FOWERS and JOHN BRYAN, close friends in school, have stayed that way out in life. They are both working at the tannery. NANCY BOWERS is married and has two children. CLORGE LEMEN had made a career of the Navy. He got a special leave for tonight's reunion. MARVIN LOWERY, who is now a minister, delivers the sermons at the Grace Brethren Church in Hagerstown. E. WOOD TEACH is a physical education instructor at Hancock High School. JUNE SWOFF is the new secretary at the High School now. BILLY SIMMONS is the head electrician at Potomac Edison. DARLENE FICHELBERGER is very happily married to Jim Mills. It seems as though the R. S. G. Department Store has a new manager, MARY DRAPER. LOUISE BLOYER and BEATRICE RUBY are school teachers. Louise teaches at Clearspring and Bea is struggling with the first graders at Boonsboro. DOLORES DREIBACH had become quite famous as an artist in New York. MARY CATHERINE HESS is working at Fairchild. KATHLEEN BECKLEY married her chemical engineer and they are living at Canada. SHIRLEY TURNER is holding down a job at the Potomac Edison. MELVIN MASTON must tell her silence is golden, because he never talks back to his wife. BETTY DORSEY is working at the silk mill. PAUL CLOPPER is now manager of the Acme Store at Halfway. HELEN SIGLER is married and is living at Oak No. 4, raising her four children. Later in the evening CHARLES MILES, who is now singing at the Metropolitan Opera House, entertained us. It was wonderful to hear him sing again. Oh! I almost forgot JANICE FORSYTH because she's just now coming in, late as usual. They tell me that she is acting in amateur plays and doing very well.

I enjoyed the reunion, and seeing my classmates again, very much.

Education is a lot like the stepladder a wise man uses to help him pick the high apples on an apple tree. Some people can pick the high apples without a stepladder but a ladder makes the job easier, faster and more certain of success. Even with a ladder, though, you have to climb up and reach out with your own two hands. The ladder itself doesn't actually pick the apples.

Staff '53

Greetings and salutations from the staff of Guneukitschik '53. It was indeed a great pleasure to prepare this book for you. We all enjoyed every minute of our work, and it is our sincere wish that you will have as much pleasure in reading our annual as we had in preparing it for your enjoyment.

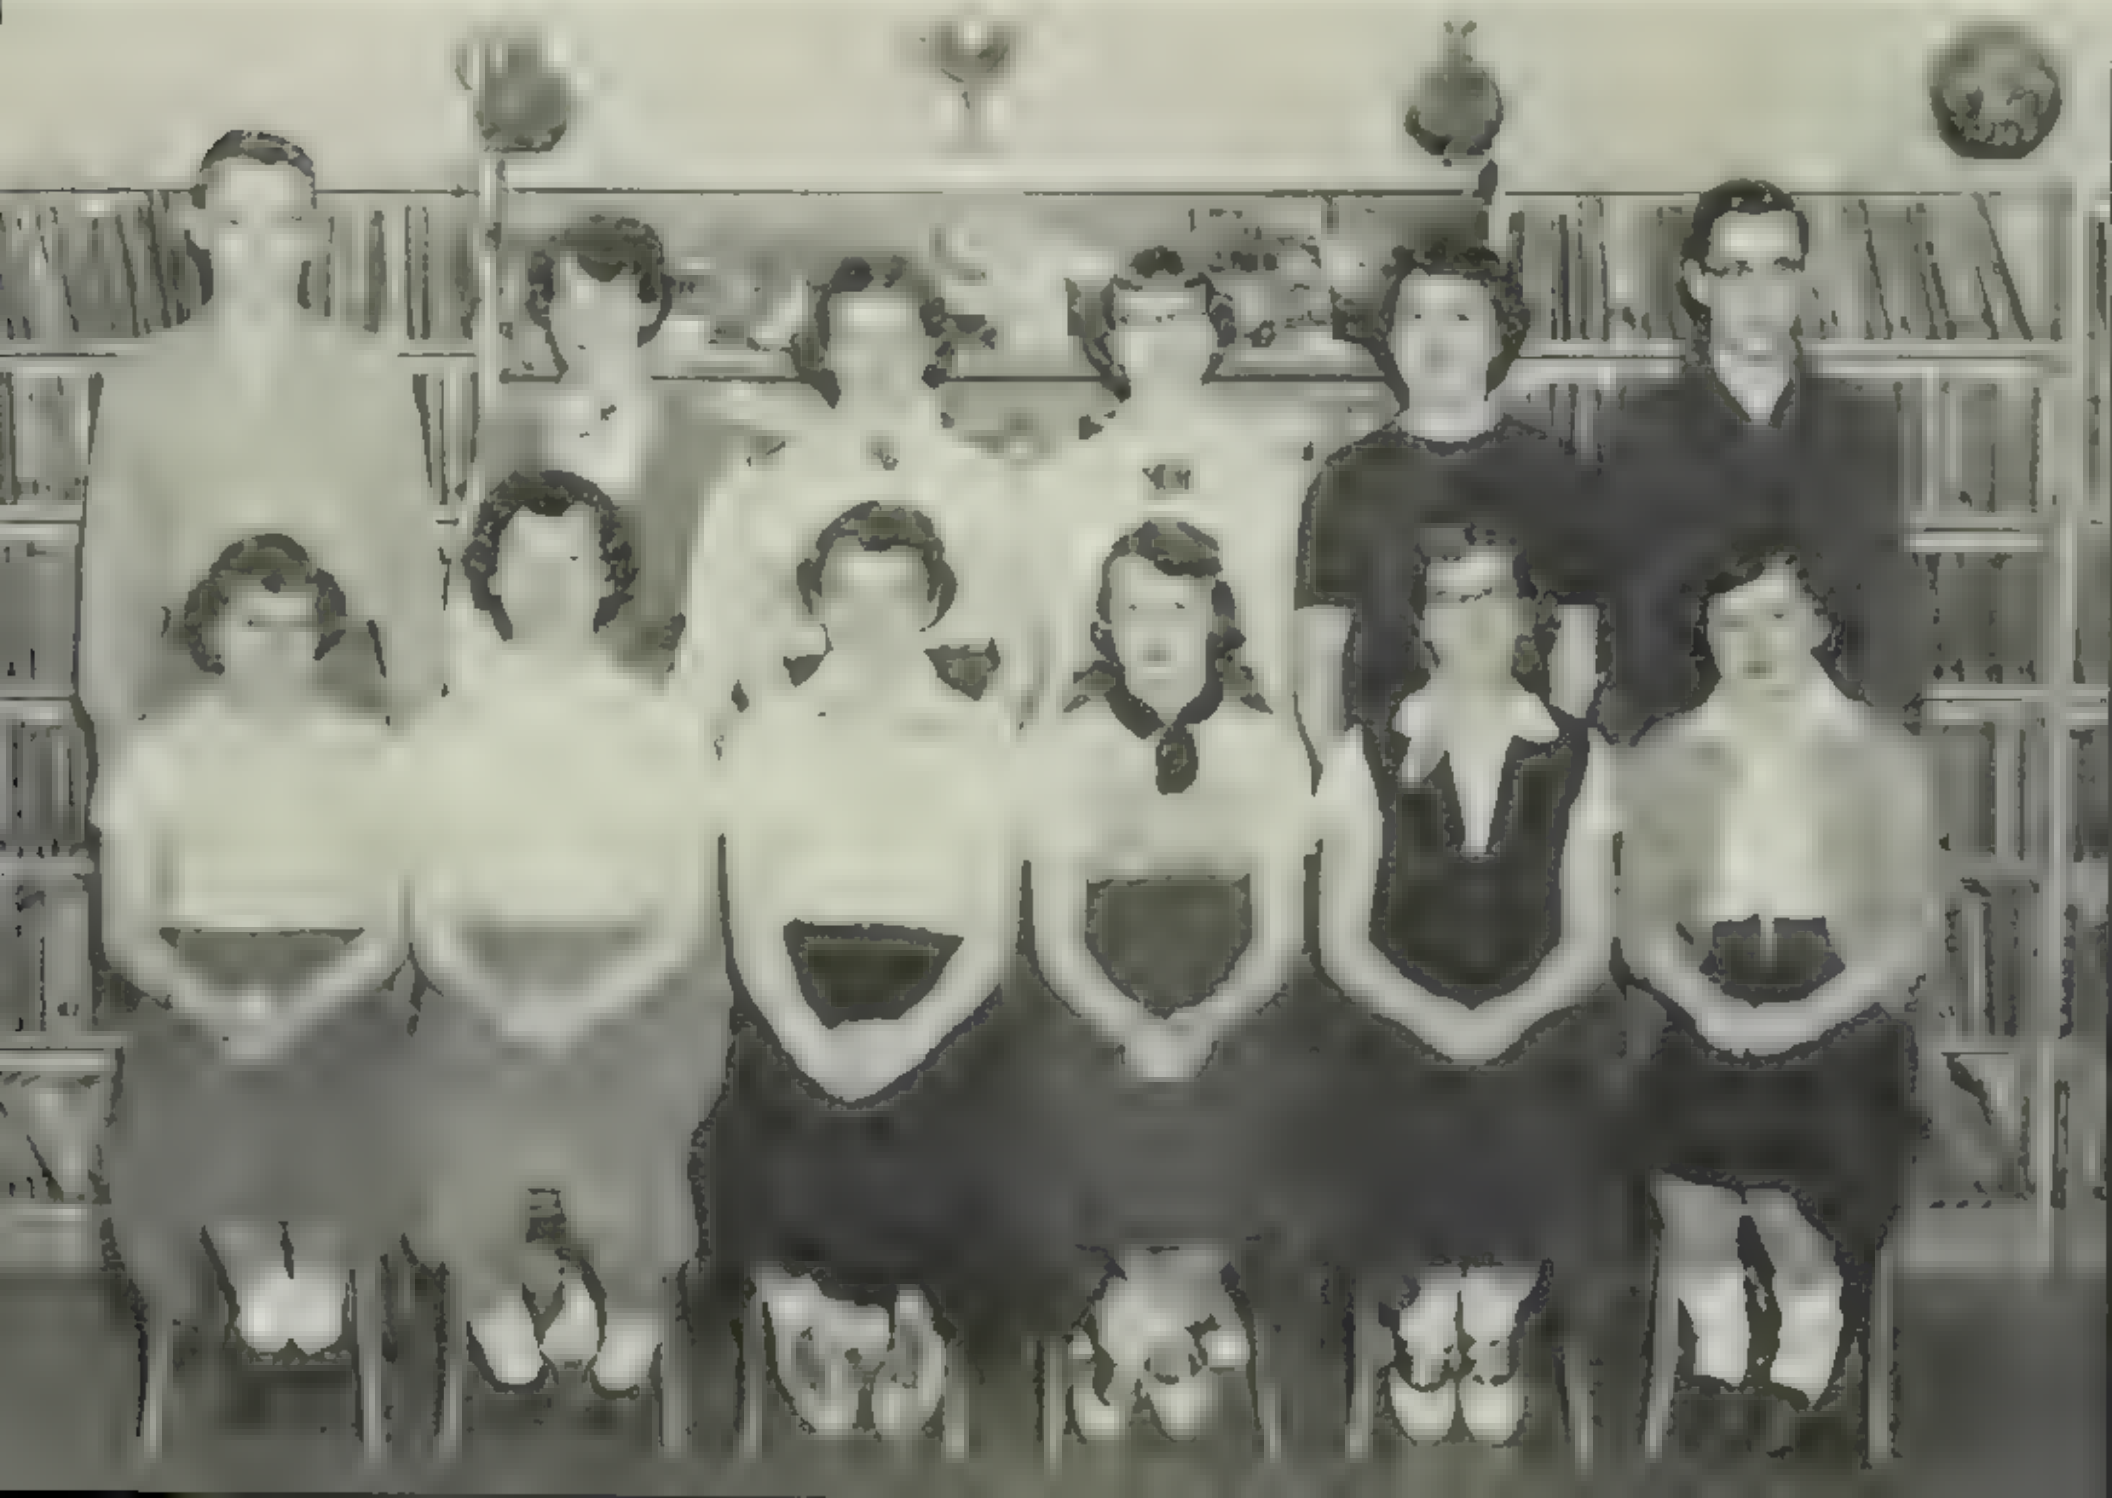

In the years to come a few of you will have the same task that we have just completed. At times it will seem like a lot of hard work. It is just that the satisfaction that is derived from a book you helped prepare will far outweigh any headaches you acquired or sacrifices you made.

As we leave you, our friends and classmates of the past few years, we cannot help but remember the "rough times" we have had together and the fun and joyous things we did together. With these thoughts in mind we shall not bid you good-bye but merely "so-long." We'll be seeing you."

We have attempted to record, in these few pages, a pictorial history of our senior year and the school year '52-'53. Many events have occurred this year, and it was our intention to record a few of the more important ones. We are the first to admit our annual is not one-hundred per cent complete. But it is our hope that what we have succeeded in printing will assist each of us in remembering our high school days. For these are truly the best years of our lives!

[Faint, illegible handwriting]

1. The first part of the paper is a review of the literature on the topic.

The image is a very low-quality, blurry scan of a document page. It features a light beige background with numerous faint, dark, and indistinct marks scattered across it. These marks appear to be either noise from the scanning process or extremely faded text and graphics that are no longer legible. There are no clear shapes, figures, or text that can be identified.
